FREELANCE WEB DEVELOPER / WEB DESIGNER

As a freelance web developer and designer at IMM, I was responsible for designing and building various websites using WordPress. My duties included collaborating with clients to understand their website requirements, designing website layouts and visual elements, developing website functionality, and ensuring the final product met client expectations. Through this role, I developed strong technical skills in web development and design, as well as project management and communication skills.

Education

MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS

2008 — 2011

NTI Gymnasiet Malmö

During my three years at NTI Gymnasiet Malmö, I studied media and communications with a focus on graphic communications. Through this program, I developed strong skills in graphic design, communication strategies, and media production.

Interests

My personal interests include football, gaming, travel, music, and books. I enjoy playing football and watching matches from different leagues around the world. In my free time, I also enjoy gaming, particularly first-person shooters and role-playing games.

I have a passion for traveling and have been fortunate enough to visit several countries in Europe. I enjoy exploring new cultures, trying new foods, and meeting new people.

Music is another passion of mine, and I enjoy listening to a variety of genres, including hip-hop, rock, and electronic music. I also enjoy reading books, particularly fiction and biographies, and find it a great way to unwind after a long day.
